Pets On The Payroll

Jennifer Polanz

Check out this cute face! It belongs to Maya, a mini bull terrier at Canada Green Nursery & Garden Center in Saint George, New Brunswick, Canada.

Here's what Dimitri Karakostas wrote about her: "Maya may have spent her first few years as a city dog, but she's made herself at home in the dirt at her human mom's family nursery! She is always eager to go for a ride to the greenhouses, as there's always something new to smell—and with her big nose, she certainly appreciates it! Her wake-up calls are better than a rooster's—she always knows when it's time for lunch! Maya reminds me to take it slow and be purposeful in my day—any troubles simply melt away the second I see her beautiful smile!" GP
