greenPROFIT

Consumer Buzz

2/28/2017

The Wage Age Divide

Ann-Marie Vazzano

Millennials today make less money and have only half the net wealth their parents had at a similar age, according to a recent report from Young Invincibles, a national organization representing the interests of Millennials. The study found today's young adult workers earn $10,000 less than young adults did in 1989, a decline of 20%. GP