Beautify Your City

Jennifer Polanz

The deadline for cities to sign up for America In Bloom is February 28, so don't delay if you're considering signing your town up. Retailers, growers and allied trade have all helped to beautify their cities through this program, creating a sense of community and increasing property values along the way. To find out more about how a city can participate, visit www.americainbloom.org. Click on "About AIB" to learn more and visit the inspirations page to see testimonials from those in the industry who have participated. GP
